DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claim Objections

3. Claims 2-5 are objected to because of the following informalities: The use of the phrase "characterized in that" should be changed as it is not conventional US patent terminology. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 2- 3 and 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 2-3 the phrases "the proportion" and "the individual components" lack proper antecedent basis. It is unclear as to what the ranges represent. Does that mean that each component is present in the that amount or what?

In claim 6 the phrases "the mixtures of two compounds", "the proportion" and "the individual components" lack proper antecedent basis.

Claims 7-10 provide for the use of a medium, but, since the claims do not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shroder (US Patent No. 4,324,287).

The reference teaches, in the Table, compositions that encompass that which is instantly claimed.

8. Claims 1-3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japanese Patent Specification No. 02-214793.

Art Unit: 1755

The abstract teaches compositions that encompass that which is instantly claimed.

9. Claims 1-3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kuroda et al (US Patent No. 5,348,080).

The reference teaches, in Table 1 and Table 3(b) compositions that encompass that which is instantly claimed.

10. Claims 1-3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by European Patent Specification No. 049761.

The reference teaches in the abstract a ternary salt mixture comprising calcium nitrate optionally containing water of crystallization, potassium nitrate and sodium nitrate.

The instant claims are met by the reference. The optional water of crystallization is seen to meet the water found in the instant claims absent evidence showing otherwise.

11. Claims 1 and 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kniep et al (US Patent No. 5,728,316).

The reference teaches, in the example a composition that encompasses that which is instantly claimed.

Art Unit: 1755

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

12. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

13. Claims 1-3 and 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese Patent Specification No. 51-126980.

The abstract teaches heat regenerating compositions produced by melting hydrated calcium nitrate and hydrated magnesium nitrate.

The instant claims are rendered obvious by the reference. It is the position of the examiner that the presence of the hydrated forms renders obvious applicants limitation of the presence of water absent evidence showing otherwise.

14. Claims 1-4 and 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Derwent Abstract No. 1982-83034E (abstract of Japanese Patent Specification No. SU 883134B).

The abstract teaches mixtures of lithium nitrate hydrate and zinc nitrate hydrate which are melted to form a heat storing eutectic salt mixture.

The instant claims are obvious over the reference. It is the position of the examiner that the use of hydrates of the nitrates renders obvious the instant mixtures absent evidence to the contrary as water is present in the hydrated material.

Double Patenting

15. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

16. Claims 1-10 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over the claims of copending Application No. 10/513,655. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the reduction to practice of the claims of the copending application would render obvious the instant claims.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

The instant claims are encompassed by the scope of the claims of the copending application.
